WORKMAN'S HAND SEVERED

BY RIPSAP FRIDAY.
Four fingers and half the thumb of a good right hand were amputated by a ripsaw Friday afternoon, when Frank Worden, a carpenter's helper, made a slip on the machine where he worked in the American bank building. In great agony, he was hurried by a fellow workman to the office of Dr. W. B. Urmon, where the stub of the hand was trimmed and dressed.
So great was the shock of the brutal amputation by the rough saw that Worden now is confined in Hotel Dieu.

Cause of the accident is unexplained, except that "something slipped." Word-den lives at 509 South Oregon street, and is married.

Clarence Murray, formerly with the El Paso & Southwestern, but now with the Southern Pacific at Nogales, Ariz., who has been in the city visiting his parents, left Friday for Guaymas, where he has been promoted to the chief clerkship.

DAN PATCH TO BE AT EL PASO FAIR

annual show. The daintiest little ponies will appear with their daintier children riders, the saddle, light carriage and heavy harness classes will be shown with perfect appointments as well as the annual work horse parade and commercial class. Dr. J. A. Edmonds, one of the authorities on matters pertaining to the horse, will be in charge of this part of the annual fair and is already coaching the competitors in the different classes. The pony class will be made more elaborate this year than at the previous shows. Newsboys will enter with their trusty little animals and the pets of the little El Pasos will be seen at their best. The ride of nations, and the musical rides, both most attractive will also be seen at the annual show.

Fair Week Also Convention Week.
Fair week will be convention week.
A half dozen or more associations and organizations will hold their annual conventions and meetings in El Paso as a part of the big fair week. The Alfalfa Growers' association will have its second annual meeting and first annual alfalfa day at the fair on November 2.

The growers of grains and grasses will be here from all parts of the irrigated southwest and will participate in the day which has been set apart as their day.

The Southwestern Editorial association will meet on statehood day, Thursday, November 3, and will have a chuck wagon feed with the compliments of the Fair association.
The first Southwestern Mining congress will meet and organize in El Paso during the fair on a day to be set apart and designated as mining and mineral day. The West Texas Horticultural society will also meet here during the fair.

The Poultry Association, too, will hold its second annual show during the entire week of the fair with chickens from every well known breeder in the country on exhibition. The National Mohair Growers' association will have its annual convention in El Paso during the fair. This is the only national convention slated for fair week, and is to be given a prominent place on the program. Angora goats from every section of the country will be on exhibition and the mohair products will make an interesting exhibit in the merchants' and manufacturers' building.

The Kennel club will have a bench show in the dog pavilion which will be a credit to the annual bench shows of the eastern kennel clubs. The livestock growers will exhibit in the livestock section and the art associations will have displays in the art hall in profusion.

rate. Instead of having the school exhibit downtown, as was done last year, the school authorities have concentrated on the one to be made in the school department at the fair. The exhibit is expected to be of especial interest to the out of town visitors who are interested in educational work and special invitations are to be sent to the schools of the southwest to have their instructors and students attend the fair in order to study the modern methods of child training as exemplified in the El Paso schools, the most modern in the entire west.

Brilliant Illumination.
Realizing the value of night illumination, the fair association has arranged for the grounds to be brilliantly lighted, and the night attractions are to be made one of the big features of the fair. Each night there will be something doing at the big show. Fireworks, carnivals, parades, masquerade fetes and the Os-Aple parade are to be given at the fair grounds. In addition to the regular Overland Trail attractions and the exhibit buildings, where everything will be on display the same as during the day.

This will enable the working men and their families to attend the fair in the evenings without losing time from their work and participate in the second annual southwestern prosperity celebration, which is to be crystallized into the big fair. Bands will be playing in all parts of the grounds morning, noon and night during the nine days of wonders. Parades will be given through the grounds and along the Overland Trail, shows and paseants on the hippodrome of the enclosed field, and free attractions in progress in every part of the big fair grounds.

The Big Parade.
Opening with a parade of the representatives of all of the organizations of the city, including 200 delegates from the lodges, fraternal and benevolent organizations and labor unions, headed by Buffalo Bill and his band of mounted cowboys and Indians, the fair will never close its gates until the last person has passed through the turnstiles for the homebound car on Sunday evening, November 6. Not a minute is to be allowed to elapse between the formal opening and the formal closing. Something is to be crammed into each period of the nine days and nights of wonder which will make up the second annual El Paso Fair and Southwestern Exposition.
